GRADUATING CLASS NUMBERS TWELVE.

Rumford High School Sen- iors have fine Exercises.

Program was Original and unlike any of the past.

At the Baptist church Friday evening occurred the graduating exercises of the Class of 1910 of Rumford High School. Despite the very unfavorable weather conditions the auditorium of the church was filled and many were seated in the vestry which was thrown open for the occasion.

The beautiful church looked more attractive than ever with the abundant supply of potted plants, ferns, palms, and cut flowers that were banked around in front of the chancel. Three large flags draped about the chancel completed the decorations, which though simple, were nevertheless tasteful and very appropriate to the occasion and the program that was given.

The first of the program was a selection by the Glee Orchestra. An orchestra, usually composed wholly of students of the school but as two of the members of the graduating class were also members of the orchestra, it was necessary that one player be secured for the evening that was not a student. The orchestra was composed of eight pieces and played with their usual merit, their work being much appreciated by all.

After this selection the march was started. The members of the three lower classes of the school entered first, the young ladies entering from the vestibule on the right and the young men from the vestibule on the left, passing up the aisles in one file and taking seats reserved for them in the front of the middle section. They were followed by the members of the graduating class, composed of seven young ladies and five young men, who took their seats upon the platform. On the left of the platform was seated Principal Douglas, Rev. Arthur T. Craig,

FARMING SPECIAL VISITS RUMFORD.

Many Obtain Practical Knowledge by visiting The Exhibit.

Lecture was not very largely attended.

The Farming Special, fitted up at the University of Maine, which is touring certain portions of the State over the tracks of the Maine Central, arrived at Rumford at about six o'clock Monday afternoon and was soon the scene of a large gathering of the citizens who were anxious to view the exhibit and seek information from those in charge. The make up of the exhibit has been thoroughly covered by the daily papers, so no detail description will be attempted here.

The first car on the train at least as the writer approached the train, was a flat car on which were a number of different makes of spraying machines for the spraying of trees, potatoes, etc. The value of these was shown by actual demonstration. Next came another flat car on which was a riding side hill plow, a two row cultivator, a fanning mill, roller and also a grain elevator and a potato digger. Looking into the next car we had the orchard exhibit showing the correct methods of pruning, grafting, etc., also the spraying solutions in a large number of bottles. Next came the entomological department with all kinds of insects and insects that make life hard for the farmer and the best way of exterminating is explained. The forest department is next in line with its display of seedlings of different species of its growth. In this car an agricultural library is also found and the reader of information is told what books deal with the subject in which he is interested and where they may be secured. The Department of Agriculture is the last in this car, showing exhibits of soils, fertilizers, etc.

As we pass into the next car the clipping of chickens is heard and we find ourselves in the poultry department. Incubators, brooders, trap nests, drawings showing the correct shape of standard birds of different breeds. The various methods of fattening, killing, preparing for market are demonstrated to those interested. The veterinary department comes next and this is a large and interesting exhibit. The remainder of the car is given over to the dairy department and this leading industry of our state is represented

FURBISH'S SHOP BROKEN INTO.

Bicycle Tires and Other Articles Taken.

Electric Lighting on River
Street is poor.

Sometime during the evening Sunday or in the early morning hours of Monday morning, the repair shop of F. A. Furbish on River street, was broken into and several new bicycle tires, stamped with the name of "S. L. Crosby Company, Bangor," and a quantity of other articles were taken from the place. The entrance was made by breaking the lock on the door and the theft was not discovered until Mr. Furbish entered the shop the next morning.

Mr. Furbish has been annoyed to a considerable extent by breaks of this kind at his shop in recent years, and he is strongly of the opinion that the very poor street lighting in that vicinity is one reason why he is obliged to suffer these losses and why the thieves are so successful in escaping detection by the police officers. He is now circulating a paper which is being generally signed to have additional lights placed in the vicinity.

Since coming to Rumford, we have heard it frequently stated that the land is the poorest lighted section of the corporation. Even on Congress street, the conditions are not what they should be, and we think the majority of the citizens will agree with us in this statement. On the evenings when the stores are open and lighted, there is nothing to complain of, but a large part of the evenings the only stores that are open are the drug and confectionery stores and if there is anything special going on most of these stores are closed before people go to their homes. Any one who has passed up Congress street, say at eleven o'clock in the evening on a rainy night, knows what the conditions are, and it is such that an improvement at certain points on the street should be made.

by a display that is in proportion to the importance of the industry to the state.

AT THE LECTURE HALL.

Owing in part to the numerous other events that took place on that evening and no doubt in part to the fact that Rumford is largely a manufacturing town, at least in this section of it, the attendance at the lecture given at the McManis Hall was rather small. Prof. V. B. Gardner was the first speaker. He reviewed the progress of education in our country, showing the privileges that are enjoyed today by all, which only a few years ago were withheld from only a comparatively few. Of the changes in methods in the educational system and the work that is being done at the State University and how they are striving to be of value to all the people of the state. This method, this tour on which they are engaged, being arranged to carry education to those who could not come to the University to receive it. A large number of views of the University were then shown on the screen. Prof. Gardner explained to the audience the different buildings shown and the methods used in the work that was illustrated.

Prof. Gardner then introduced Prof. Brown, who spoke on the poultry industry. The new open air houses are a great improvement over the former methods. The essentials of this style of house is to be free from draughts, free from dampness, reasonably warm and rat and vermin proof. He considered rats one of the fowls' worst enemies. The quality of the stock rather than any special breed was the important question. The houses must be kept cleaner in summer. Keep the house cool and it will not be disagreeable for the birds, and it will not leave the house in the house for access alone, where if the nests in the house are kept clean.

The next speaker introduced was Mr. Hutton of the Maine Dairy Association. He was always glad to speak a good word for the cow, a beast which he considered had done more for mankind than any other animal. Maine farmers have been selling their stock when they knew that it was not the right thing to do. He had done it himself and was ashamed of it. The number of cows is decreasing and the demand for dairy products greater than ever. Maine farmers are guilty of a lack of business principles. In other lines of business, merchants make strenuous efforts to supply the demand for their goods. Farmers are not doing this. Cows are better than they were, we must continue to breed so they will continue to improve. Fresh great things for the State of Maine are cows, calves, cows and eggs. We must secure good seed and raise our own feed so that when the cream check comes it will not have to be turned over to a fellow in the west who has raised our grain for us. Make your farming varied and do not put your eggs all in one basket.

Prof. Bell was the last speaker introduced and he took for his subject, Grains. He stated the measures covered with diseases and bacteria, similar to

OXFORD COUNTY MED. ASSOCIATION

Meet at Prospect Hotel, Bethel.

Ladies Night With Annual Banquet.

The Medical men owned Bethel last Monday night, the occasion being the annual meeting and ladies' night of the Oxford Medical Association.

Early in the afternoon the members began to arrive by auto and by six o'clock the town certainly was a town and each of its principal streets was a row.

The rendezvous was Prospect Hotel which certainly presented a glittering appearance as it has done since its installation of electric lights. Its location, and those majestic elms, overlooking the common and village, the broad piazzas a blaze of light should have caused a feeling of pride to well up in the heart of every loyal Bethelite, as well as to lead every visiting "medic" to regret that his lot had not fallen in so pleasant a spot as Bethel.

In the evening a business session was held after which, Morris H. Richardson, a specialist of Boston was introduced as speaker and he gave an able paper on Gall Bladder Surgery. Miss Elsie Hall then gave a piano solo, responding to an encore; Miss Richardson and Mrs. A. Van Den Kerckhoven gave a pleasing duet and Mrs. E. C. Van Den Kerckhoven gave two readings. The program was fully enjoyed as was the next and last feature which was a banquet.

Here again came an opportunity for the visitors to wish they owned Bethel as their hotel and Prospect Hotel as their banquet hall, for surely few are the villages in Maine, where such a banquet as was enjoyed on this occasion can be secured. The scoring was from 10:15 P. M. until 1 A. M. during which time there were 33 proofs given that a man's or woman's stomach will hold more than three plates for there were 33 of them each of which would have held at 1 A. M. nearer three pecks.

many they had seen on this trip, were pretty to look upon but they are not good to pay our taxes or to feed cows. Rotation of crops must be practiced and a three years' rotation is excellent. Plant oats the first year, corn or potatoes the second year and use the field for hay the third year. We lacked over $300,000 bushels of raising what hay our stock in Maine consumed last year. Land can be cultivated so that 60 bushels of oats can be secured to the acre making a liberal allowance for expenses there can be harvested at a cost not to exceed 13 per bushel. The serious problem of our state is to secure reliable seed. Our farmers are not producing it poorest quality. Here is an opportunity to the progressive farmer. What we need is seed production not seed consumption.

RUMFORD REPUBLICANS FAVOR WHEELER.

Delegates Favorable To Him Chosen Saturday.

Vote on two sets of Delegates was very close.

The Republican Caucus to choose delegates to the Oxford County Convention was held at the Municipal Court room Saturday afternoon at four o'clock and it was evident that there was much interest in the result for the number that were on hand nearly filled the room.

Pratt O. Eaton, chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order and read the call. Judge A. E. Stearns was elected as chairman of the caucus and James A. McManis as secretary. Judge Stearns thanked the voters for this honor and said that he was pleased to see so many present. By some of the talk that you hear about town at the present time you would hardly think there were as many Republicans in this town as are here assembled. Your presence here shows that you are interested in the welfare of the party and that next fall the Republicans of Rumford will be in line as in the past. He then read the article in the call which related to the election of eight delegates to the County Convention. He read a list of the county officers for which the convention would nominate candidates to be appointed by the Republicans in September, and stated that there would be but two contests at the convention, one for the office of sheriff, the other for the office of County Commissioner. As he understood it the matter of interest to this caucus is the selection of a candidate for sheriff. Two sets of ballots have been distributed among you, each bearing the names of eight delegates. There may be no misunderstanding in the matter I will say that the set of delegates headed by the name of Waldo Patten is favorable to William J. Wheeler of South Paris as Sheriff, the set headed by the name of Fred O. Eaton are anti-Wheeler ballots.

George D. Bikes stated that there were three other candidates besides Mr. Wheeler and he should like to know which candidate this other set of delegates favored. Judge Stearns replied that he understood that four delegates on this ballot were pledged to Harry D. Cole of South Paris and four to Bartlett of Stoneham and that after the first ballot all the delegates would support the candidate which received the most votes on the first ballot and was anti-Wheeler.

After this explanation it was moved that a committee of three be appointed to receive and count the ballots. The chairman appointed J. E. Stephens, P. B. Clark and E. L. Lovell. While the ballots were being counted the other matter of business, that of electing a town committee was attended to. Chairman Stearns read the names of the committee that had served for the past year and Stanley Dimes made a motion that the secretary call the vote of the caucus for these gentlemen to serve as a town committee for the next two years. The motion was seconded and voted.

George D. Bikes stated that four o'clock was a bad hour for Republicans that lived outside the village to be present at a caucus and made a motion that in the future all caucuses should be called at two o'clock in the afternoon. The motion was also carried.

After a short wait the committee appointed to count the ballots reported as follows:

Whole number of votes cast 101

Necessary for choice, 51.

Wheeler Ballots, 51.

Anti-Wheeler Ballots, 50.

Thus the Wheeler delegates were elected by one ballot. These delegates were Waldo Patten, Walter G. Moore, Elias Abbott, George M. Locke, H. Martie, Mark A. Elliott, J. A. Niles, H. L. Lovell.

On the sets of delegates that were defeated were P. B. Clark, E. L. Lovell, J. E. Stephens, L. H. Veilley, J. B. Stevenson, W. R. Moore, H. L. Elliott.

METALLIC LODGE ATTENDS SERVICES.

Nearly All The Members Were In Uniform.

A Good Delegation of Pythian Sisters Also Present.

Sunday afternoon, the members of Metallic Lodge, K. of P., escorted by Pottingill Company, Uniform Rank, and right here it might be well to say that by far a large per cent, of the Knights in attendance were members of the uniform rank, the number in uniform being about forty, while those escorted by the Rumford Band and a part of the way by a delegation of thirty or more members of Ozzalluc Temple, Pythian Sisters, marched to the Universalist church to listen to a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Elliott B. Barber.

The line of march was a little late in starting, it being somewhat after two-thirty before they left their hall on Canal street, then they proceeded to Hartford, Congress, Bridge and Franklin streets to the church. The large number in uniform added much to the appearance of the order. The Sisters branch of the Order was organized only a short time ago and this was their first public appearance and they are to be congratulated on the large representation that was present.

The order of service was as follows:

Organ Voluntary, Miss Brown.

Opening Service.

Trombone Solo, Mr. Waddington.

Anthem, Quartet, Miss Staples, Mrs. Blanchard, Mr. Irish, Mr. Foster.

Scripture Reading, Chap. 2, St. James.

Prayer.

Response, Quartet.

Hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Solo, Miss Staples.

Closing Hymn and Benediction.

Rev. Mr. Barber took for his text the words, "In the beginning was the word." The sermon was a scholarly discourse showing much depth of thought. He spoke of the evolution of the earth, the progress that had been made during the ages of the past to the present time. And from this as a beginning he led up to the evolution that had taken place and was taking place very rapidly at the present in the social conditions. How we were beginning to realize that in our brother's welfare our own peace and happiness was largely dependent. The great growth of the feeling of brotherhood in the last decade is in no small measure due to work of the Order here represented and the large number of similar organizations known as "Secret Societies." The old saying that we get from life in the same proportion as we give to life is just as true today as ever and is just as true to order of this kind as to any branch of life.

At the close of the service the march was continued up Franklin Street, down Main Avenue, Washington Street, Rumford Avenue to Franklin Street and thence back to the K. of P. hall on Canal Street.

There are in Rumford and Mexico eight Sunday schools with a total attending membership of 975.

The schools, with possibly one exception, will unite with the young people's societies of the two towns in holding a basket picnic on Burgess hill, Monday, July 4.

These picnic grounds are on top of a hill about three and one-half miles from Rumford Falls.

A committee consisting of one member from each school is in charge of the program and other arrangements and if it does not rain they promise to give everyone a good time.

Those of the committees whose names have been learned thus far are J. H. Holman, Fred Straburg, Elton Kewley, Fred Sweetser, Wm. McKenzie, Arthur Lane and Rev. E. B. Barber.

It is expected that a special train will leave Rumford at 9 a. m. and run to what is known as the Camp Hill about two and one-half miles south of Rumford. The party will then fall into line and march to the picnic grounds, where they will get the best view of the surrounding country that can be found for miles around.

There will be one or two games of base ball and all the other sports that can be crowded into the time that the party will remain on the mountains.

The water will be furnished and ice cream, fruit and refreshment will be on sale. It is possible that a band will be in attendance.

Next week's paper will give the complete program and all the details concerning the special train, rates, etc.

Everybody come and have a good time. If you go to Sunday school next Sunday, you will hear something about it.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

DARE TO SAY "NO."
Dare to say "No" when you're tempted to drink.
Pause for a moment, my brave boy, and think—
Think of the wrecks on life's ocean tossed
For answering yes without counting
the cost;
Think of the mother who bore you in pain!
Think of the tears that will fall like
the rain;
Think of her heart and how cruel the blow;
Think of her love and at once answer
"No!"

Think of the hopes that are drowned in the bowl;
Think of the danger to body and soul;
Think of sad lives once as pure as the snow;
Look at them now and at once answer
"No!"

Think of a manhood with rum-tainted breath;
Think how the glass leads to sorrow
and death;
Think of the homes that, now shadowed
with woe,
Might have been heaven had the answer been "No!"

Think of the lone graves both unwept
and unknown,
Hiding fond hopes that were fair as your own;
Think of proud forms now forever laid low;
That still might be here had they learned to say "No!"

Think of the demon that lurks in the boy,
Driving to ruin both body and soul;
Think of all this as life's journey you go,
And when you're assailed by the tempter say "No!"

IT MAY BE YOUR TURN NEXT.
Judge not too harshly O, my friend!
Of him your fellow-man,
But draw the veil of charity
About him if you can.
He once was called an honest man,
Before sore trial vexed—
He stepped from out the narrow way—
It may be your turn next.

Fainting upon the great highway
A suffering soul doth lie;
Go stanch his wound and quench his thirst,
Nor pass him idly by.
God will not brook the swift excuse,
The thoughtless vain pretext;
A fellow mortal bites the dust—
It may be your turn next.

You heard, one day, a single word
Against a person's name;
O, bear it not from door to door,
To further hurt his fame.
If you're the man you claim to be,
Remember, then, the text,
To "speak no evil," true or false—
It may be your turn next.

AFTER FIFTY.
As the days of the years glide swiftly
On the river of time away,
The years of my life are fading
In the measureless past for aye.

In springtime there's freshness of growing;
In summer the sweetness of bloom;
In autumn the ripeness of harvest;
In winter the shroud and the tomb.
I have gathered the buds of springtime,
And the summer's sweet bloom tarried,
And I now in the mellow autumn
Am waiting my winter of rest.
Oh, bright were the songsters that warbled
In green budding branches of spring,
And sweet were the songs of the summer
The nestlings were learning to sing.
And autumn, though sober, is welcome,
The season of beauty and cheer,
When fruitage has come to the promise
Of blooming when summer was here.
The childhood that fancy delights in,
And youth time ambition inspires,
But weakness displaces the illusion,
And age blunts the keenest desires.
Life seems to me now, looking backward,
A pathway so weary to climb,
But ever before me lies downward
To the sunset borders of time.
With footstep uncertain I've wandered
Too often afar from the right;
But I know my Father would ever
Have led me in pathways of light.
The past—it has vanished forever
In the depths of a soulless sea,
To the caves of wonderful treasure,
And the genie's enchanted key.
And the future, veiled in its shadows,
Refuses to answer my call;
But I know the gateway is near me
That opens but once unto all.
And a merciful Father will shield me,
And hedge me about with his care;
With his own-loving hand uphold me,
And help me life's burdens to bear.
He knows all my spirit's vain striving
The folly and sin of the past;
He only can fit me to enter
The light of his presence at last.
M. S. Baker.

RIGHT HERE AT HOME.
Right here at home, boys, is the place,
I guess,
For me and you and plain old happiness.
We hear the world's lots grander—
Likely so;
We'll take the world's word for it and not go;
We know its ways ain't our ways—so we'll stay
Right here at home boys where we know the way.

Right here at home, boys, where a well-
to-do
Man's plenty rich enough—and 'knows it, too,
And's got a' extra dollar any time
To boost a fellow up 'at wants to climb,
And's got the git-up in him to go in And git there, like he purty nigh allus kint!

Right here at home, boys, is the place
for us—
Where folks' hearts bigger'n their money pu';
And where a common fellow's just as good
As any other in the neighborhood.
The world at large won't worry you and me
Right here at home, boys, where we ort to be.

Right here at home, boys—jest right
where we air!
Birds don't sing any sweeter anywhere;
Grass don't grow any greener'n she grows
Across the pasture where the old path goes.
All things in ear shot's purty, or in sight,
Right here at home, boys, if we size
'em right.

Right here at home, boys, where the old homestead
As sacred to us as our mother's face, Jest as we rickollect her last, she smiled
And kissed us—dyin' so and rickol-lised.
Seedin' us at home here—none astray—Right here at home, boys, where she sleeps today.
—James Whitcomb Riley.

Manager Leith had the Pilgrims of Lewiston booked for his opening game last Saturday but the sudden shower dampened the prospects and the game was canceled. A strong attraction has been secured for next Saturday in anticipation of fair weather. Under the new management the Bethel team will have a changed lineup which in all probability will present Lansen, catcher; Bill Leith, pitcher; Tim Gammon, first base; Ernest Clason, second base; Abe Klain, third base; "Kil" Harrison, short stop; Fred LaFrance, left field; "Cy" Young, center field; and "Dell" Rich, right field. We all know the business and playing ability of the new manager, thus excellent base ball can be expected in the future, weather permitting.

Pythian-Banquet was observed by Pennesson-Lodge No. 18 Knights of Pythias last Sunday, more than fifty Knights and Pythian Sisters attended the Memorial service in the Universalist church at 2:30 P. Merritt Welch new dry goods store in the building lately occupied by Berks Barzar has opened with excellent business. Mr. Welch is well known in this section and his ability in this line is unquestioned.

A base ball nine under the management of Bernice Cobb defeated the Mason Mfg. Co's team by a score 8-0. The game was played at South Paris between the showers last Saturday afternoon and proved an exciting contest as the teams were evenly matched.

Charles J. Fuller, son of C. W. Fuller has perfected an attachment for the wheels of an ordinary automobile which will convert this summer luxury into an automobile sleigh for winter use. While Mr. Fuller's scheme is a general way to follow the original run of previous intentions, yet radical changes will allow the machine to be propelled over rough ground, ice, bare ground or soft drifts owing to "digger" wheels which can be raised or lowered by a foot pressure. The Hurdette American will shortly display the invention.

ACTIVITY

There's wonderful activity in the shopping district of Portland these days. Every train and trolley car seems to bring in its quota of out-of-town shoppers. #### The Kind of Goods

That are up to our standard are althe goods offered for sale. They must have certain lines about them and be made and trimmed in just such a way to suit the buyer at the people tell us so often that our gar-to such an extent that whenever ladies want goods for an occasion of

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column
Dedicated to Tired Mothers
as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed you in temperance, self-control, diligence, strength of will, content and a hundred virtues which the idle will never know.

—Charles Kingsley.

Smiles Keep Affection.

No matter what the novelists say against her, the smiling wife is an improvement on her stern browed sister, and the smiling mother is the one who gathers her babies most tenderly in her arms.

"She talked kind, but she looked cross," said a little boy of a new teacher as a reason for his refusal to go to school. And big people are affected much more than they realize by the expressions of the faces that they meet on the street.

"She was so pleasant," is the inscription on a moss mottled stone in a country churchyard. "She was so pleasant" is not a bad epitaph for any one when the book of life is finished.

Your Mental Windows.

Elizabeth Knight Tompkins in a recent magazine article urges her sisters to cultivate an interest in the affairs which most interest the men with a view to promoting mutual attachments. "There is no art that requires more practice than that of getting into touch with men's minds and often the finer, the more truly feminine a woman is the longer it takes her to become proficient. How few men and women past their youth have anything in common! It would become a quicker meeting, with the men on one side and the women on the other. It seems sometimes as if the average man and woman had but one mutual interest. I am afraid it is hopeless to expect men to take part in our feminine pursuits, so apparently, the only way out is for us to interest ourselves in theirs—and a very good thing it would be for us if we did. A healthy interest in bigger things than our own personal concerns would do much to take from us all the well deserved reproach of small mindedness."

The Spirit of Home.

To create a home you must have the spirit of home. Just as the smallest village may have its history, its mortal stamp, so the smallest home may have its soul. Oh, the spirit of place, the atmosphere which surrounds us in human dwellings! What a world of mystery!

Here even on the threshold the cold begins to penetrate; you are ill at ease; something intangible repulses you.

There no sooner does the door shut you in than friendliness and good humor envelop you. It is said that walls have ears. They also have voices, a mute eloquence. Everything that a dwelling contains is bathed in an ether of personality. I find proof of its quality even in the apartments of bachelors and solitary women.

What a abyss between one room and another!

Here all is dead, indifferent, commonplace; the device of the owner is worn out all over it even in his fashion of arranging his photographs and books. All is the same to me! There one breathes in animation a contagious joy in life. The visitor hears repeated in countless fashion: "Whoever you are, guest of an hour, I wish you well.
Peace be with you." —Charles Wagner.

The Old Time Parlor.

The days of the parlor are fast going.
There was once a time when every family, no matter how poor, had its parlor. And generally the parlor was the most useless place, but was the pride of the housewife. The observant citizen remembers some time ago when the lady of the house imagined that she should see "her parlor."
Her husband smiled good naturedly, and they both led the way to a big front room which was locked. The door was unlocked, and the parlor got its first fresh air for months. The little family had expended much money on the parlor. Everything was new but stuffed birds under glass cases. The design of the carpet was wonderful in that it resembled of bright red roses.

One felt like stepping into a bed of flames. A horsehair sofa, very erect while the windows were the stiffest white curtains you ever saw. The room had a musty smell due to long confined air. It was "luxury imprisoned" on a small scale and the finest example of the old time, useless parlor.—Manchester Union.

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third
one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day
again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured." —Mrs. ALYSSA SPRING, 1408 Clybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary. But build up the feminine system and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ill, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, disorders, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

There are few recorded instances of a railroad grade ever cutting a mineral vein of any value, so far the main line of the G. T. P. is no exception, but the district which it traverses is every day looming up into great and greater importance. The coast formation has never proved prolific of mineral wealth, but 100 miles from Prince Rupert the line enters a new field. A belt of mineralized rock, starting at the Portland Canal, running through the head waters of the Nasas, crosses the Skeena River about the Klutlaas Canyon and extends into the interior through the hills at Hazelton and the Babine and Hudson Bay mountains.

The extent of the zone is unknown.
Prospectors have only touched it in spots, but these spots have shown wealth incalculable. The immense area of this ore body can only be appreciated by those who have travelled over it. The future of the Portland Canal is an assured thing now. The same is known to exist on the Nasas, while late late fall, discoveries were made in the vicinity of the Klutlaas Canyon, which when developed and explored farther, will no doubt show very considerable ore body. These discoveries were made too late in the season to prove much more than that ore of good quality existed in the district, covering considerable area. Silver, lead and copper are the chief minerals found; but all ore in the district carry gold values, roughly speaking of from $1 to $10. Some even go higher than this.

At Hazelton, 180 miles from Prince Rupert, and on the line of the G. T. P. railway, the existence of a magnificent ore has been demonstrated by the strike on the Silver Cup, a property on Nine Miles Mountain. Ninety six inches of solid steel galena ore is surely sufficient assurance that Nine-Mile at least will be productive of much wealth. Work on the Libby group, owned by James Cronin of Spokane, has progressed most favorably all winter. A tunnel at 3
